WON FIRST PRIZE

RUTH OLNEY WRITES STORY THAT GETS FIRST HONORS.

BRIGHT YOUNG LADY

Has Had Unusual Training—Story Was Published in Twentieth Century Farmer.

Ruth Olney, the 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Olney of this city, has just received word from Miss Ruth A. Bailey, editor of the home department of the Twentieth Century Farmer, published at Omaha, that she won the first prize offered to the boy or girl for the best original story of less than 200 words received by that department for the month of February.

About a month ago Ruth, who is a student in Miss Maud Bainum's room at the Garfield school, was at home sick of the whooping cough. The time dragged heavily to her, as she was used to being in school, having commenced in her kindergarten years at the State Normal. Then, too, she has had unusual training for a little girl, and she simply can't be still and do nothing. Her grandmother, Mrs. Goblet, a lovely French woman, was her most devoted nurse from her babyhood, and she spoke that language first, as it was and now is used in her home. Then after her grandmother's death she began the use of English under her mother's teaching. She never knew "baby talk," and her use of English is founded on strict grammatical knowledge, as is also her French, although the latter was unconsciously gained.

But we are away off from the beginning of this story. As we said before, Ruth was at home with the whooping cough, and she didn't know what to do with all her time, and was asking her mother's advice about what she should do, when Mrs. Olney, who was reading the Twentieth Century Farmer, suggested that she write a letter to Miss Ruth Bailey of the home department. The Olneys are soon going to live on a farm in Arkansas, and Ruth thought at once it would be nice to have a friend on the Twentieth Century Farmer.

Ruth has long been a friend of Flossie Fisher of the Ladies' Home Journal, and corresponds with her frequently. She wrote and told her about her whooping cough and received such a nice, sympathetic letter in reply from Flossie (she of Flossie Fisher's Funnies) that she concluded to cultivate another friend in Miss Bailey.

So Ruth sat down and thought a while, and after a time decided to tell about a most exciting experience she had not quite a month before that—an experience she had not recovered from and would not be able to forget for a long time. It happened right by Mr. A. J. Luppold's residence on South Main street, while she was on her way to her grandmother Olney's house. The cat in the story is Stewart Luppold's cat. This is the story as it appears in the Twentieth Century Farmer:

An Exciting Adventure.
(By Ruth Todd Olney, Aged 8, Maryville, Mo.)

One morning in January my papa asked me if I would take a chicken to my grandma, who lives only a short distance away. I have a big shepherd dog, whose name is Ponto, and he goes everywhere I go. When I had gone half way, on a porch there lay a big cat. The cat did not see my big dog trotting along. Whenever Ponto sees a cat he will run after it.

Poor kitty was dozing so peacefully, when Ponto slipped up and frightened her so badly she did not know what to do. As there was nothing by her to run up, she saw me and thought she could make her escape by running up on my head.

You can guess how I felt. The cat was scratching my head; Ponto was barking, and the chicken was squawking. I did not feel like laughing. I grabbed the cat by the tail and pulled her off my head, and she made her escape by running up a telephone pole. I held on to the chicken and delivered it to grandma, who called me a brave girl.

Those who know Ruth can shut their eyes and hear her say this, it is so like the way she talks.

A few days ago Ruth received a beautiful story book entitled "Phillip in Texas," an entrancing tale of a boy and his day on a sheep ranch. There was nothing with the book at the time to tell why she had received it, and the Olneys did not know until Thursday that Ruth had won the prize. So this is a "feather in the cap" of the Garfield school, as well as that of the little winner, and The Democrat-Forum takes off its hat and makes it its best bow to them.

A CREDITABLE PERFORMANCE.

The Normal Society Play, "A College Town," Well Attended and a Success Throughout.

About 400 people witnessed the Normal society play, "A College Town," given Thursday evening by the Philomathean and Eureka Literary societies at the Normal school. The play was a success throughout and the crowd was well pleased. The actors showed much preparation, all who took part were indeed a credit to themselves and to Prof. Harry A. Miller, who has had charge of the production. Harry Kissinger, who played the leading role as Jimmie Cavendish, a rah rah boy; Bernice Bullock, who played with Jimmie, both made a hit and showed artistic qualities. Prof. Senachareib Popp, who was played by Paul Powell, was portrayed excellently. Myrtle McPherron as Ma Buggsby and Ray McPherron as LeViticus, the ace of spades, made good with the audience. Others of the cast were Arlie Hulet as Miss Jane Cavendish, Dale Hulet, Mrs. Twigg, Charles McReynolds, who made a hit with both sexes when he took the part of a widow, and Halley Ford, who was also good as Aunt Jane.

Others participating in the play were Miss Jane Gladstone, Miss Stella Rogers, Miss LaVerne Wyant, Miss Chloe Compton, Messrs. Eugene Bird, Wade Henderson, Sam Long and Leo Kuhner.

A FORMER RESIDENT.

H. C. Gilbert, Judge of the County Court, Who Was Indicted at Kansas City, Known Here.

H. C. Gilbert, judge of the county court of Jackson county, was indicted Thursday by the grand jury in session at Kansas City and was declared extravagant in deals with contractors and small jobs at big prices stretched out until original estimates were lost sight of, it is declared. E. E. Axline, a former member of the county court, was also indicted with Judge Gilbert. Gilbert is known in Maryville, having lived here four years during the eighties. He was employed in the office of N. Sisson during that time and made many friends here.

The charge is misappropriation of county money in the settlement of a claim for extras by Taylor & Winn, contractors, who built the county home in Jackson county. The payment was made by the county court in February, 1911, and received the affirmative votes of the three Democrats then on the court—Judge Gilbert, Judge Axline and the late Judge E. L. Martin.

WAGE EARNERS CLASS.

Will Hear Illustrated Lecture Friday Evening on "The Coming City," With Suggestions for Us.

The Wage Earners class of the Buchanan Street Methodist Church will hold its regular business meeting Friday evening at the Buchanan Street Methodist church.

At 8:30 the pastor, Rev. J. D. Randolph, will give an illustrated lecture on "The Coming City" that is especially timely, as Maryville is to soon hold its city election. The lecture is along municipal lines and the pictures to be shown will illustrate the advancement being made in European cities, as well as in American cities. The matter of civic improvement is brought out splendidly in these pictures, and the lecture is one that all interested in the betterment of their town should hear and see. The lecture is free to all.

CONSIDERING REST ROOM.

Federation Committee in Conference With County Court—Action to Be Taken at April Term.

A committee from the Federation of Women's Clubs met with the members of the county court on Thursday afternoon to discuss the proposition of a ladies' rest room in the court house. Lincoln Bent, a contractor of this city, accompanied the committee and gave a rough estimate as to the cost of the work. The court instructed Mr. Bent to make out his figures and give an outline of what should be done and report at the April term of the county court, when probably some action will be taken. The members of the court are favorable toward a rest room for Maryville, but don't want to spend any more money for that purpose than is necessary.

Miss Hazel Parker went to Pickering Thursday for a short visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Wray.

MUST FIX ITS DAM

MARYVILLE NEGLECTED TO PROVIDE A FISH LADDER.

WILL COST ABOUT $100

Deputy State Game Warden Was Here to See About It—The Work Will Be Done This Spring.

C. R. Cortner, deputy state game warden, was in Maryville Wednesday looking after the new concrete dam of the City Water company in the 102 river. He asked the board of public works to put in a fish chute or ladder at the dam so the fish may go over the dam going up stream.

The state law calls for a wooden inclined plane with alternate pockets at the sides to catch the water and break the force of the current. The chute is covered. The bulkhead must rest in a recess in the dam, and here is where the solid concrete must be cut away.

The dam is sixteen feet high, but eleven feet of it is in the river bed. City Engineer Flynt estimated the cost to be between $50 and $75 to complete the chute. The work will be done this spring.

MEETINGS CLOSE TONIGHT.

Dr. Hale Will Deliver Closing Sermon of Revival at First Baptist Church Friday Night.

The revival services at the First Baptist church will close with this Friday night's service. The result so far has been far beyond the expectations of the church membership. One was received for membership Thursday evening and one asked for prayer, making 110 additions to the present time.

Dr. Hale spoke Thursday night from Paul's words: "This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners." It makes such a difference with most people as to who says a thing. Men of character, men whose lives can prove their sayings, are those who influence us for or against Christianity. The life and character of Jesus was of world-transforming power, and when a man of Paul's colossal character speaks from his own Christian experience, what the man Jesus was to him, it cannot be gained. The mission of the Lord Jesus Christ is a revelation of the spirit of Christianity, and all they who are filled with this spirit have proven it through the years. All through the world today are people proving the spirit of Christ and are laying themselves down for others. Every material evidence of Christ's having lived in the world may be removed, but the life He brought with Him and is daily giving into the hearts of those who are seeking Him is all that is needed to prove His presence.

Dr. Hale's sermon Thursday night was of the highest spiritual type. He carried his hearers far beyond any material belief into the most rapturous Christian experience, where the presence of God is known and felt.

A large crowd is expected at Friday night's service.

Visited Sick Daughter.

Mrs. George Daniels of Barnard visited in Maryville Thursday afternoon with her daughter, Miss Verdia Daniels, who is ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Spier. Miss Daniels came to Maryville the first of the week for her usual musical studies at the Conservatory, also intending to visit Mrs. Spier and attend the Baptist meetings, when she was taken with acute indigestion. She was some better Friday.

NEWS SERVICE BY PHONE.

Subscribers Are Called Every Morning and the Events Are Read to Them.

Of all the curious news systems found in the old countries, Walter Williams of Missouri says the Budapest newspaper telephone service was the most interesting.

Mr. Williams has been visiting the newspaper offices of Europe, Asia, Australia and elsewhere for the purpose of making a study of the various methods, and he has run across a world of interesting material which will stand him in good hand as head of Missouri's great school of journalism.

"Budapest has the only telephone newspaper system in the world," said Mr. Williams. "As soon as I learned that I was naturally interested in observing how it was conducted. The service employs a staff of editorial writers, a telegraph editor, reporters, society and dramatic writers and advertising men just the same as any well equipped newspaper plant. The writers get up their copy just like they would if it were going to a linotype, and it is passed to the editor."

"The hours of sending out the news are from 9 o'clock in the morning to 10 o'clock at night. In the home of every subscriber the news is coming in daily between those hours, and all you have to do is to pick up the receiver and hear it."

"There is a printed schedule near the subscribers' phone, which informs him the class of news going over at a certain hour. For instance, they will start in on the most important foreign news and run that for an hour, then an hour of city news, then editorials, dramatic, society, sporting and so on. "Each class of news has its own specified hour, and is read into the sender by the writer in charge of his respective department."

"Suppose some particularly interesting news item were to occur during the transmission of the daily service?"

"The very question I asked the managing editor," said Mr. Williams, "and he showed me how it was done. He wrote a few lines on a slip of paper and handed it to a man who at the time happened to be sending a resume of an important session of parliament. The sender called through his instrument:

"Parliament proceedings suspended for an important announcement: Walter Williams, dean of the school of Journalism, Missouri, United States of America, is here. He is visiting the old world nations with his family and is studying the methods of newspaper making as an aid to instruction in his country."

"I was somewhat startled, but also gratified at the editor's very courteous and effective way of answering my question, and in the general air of hospitality about the unique establishment."

Budapest is the capital of Hungary. In commerce and industry it ranks next to Vienna in the empire.

ATTENDED FIGHT

HOMER CROY WROTE ABOUT IT FOR LOS ANGELES PAPER.

NOT IN FAVOR OF THEM

His Report of the Prize Fight is Different From Most Reports of That Kind.

Homer Croy is in Los Angeles now. At least he was there last week. He went to the Kenneth-Norton prize fight, and the Los Angeles Express had him tell about it for that paper. Homer is not in favor of them, however, and as his report of them is different from most prize fight reports, we do not hesitate to give it. The Los Angeles Express, in introducing the reporter of the prize fight, says:

"Homer Croy is famed over the United States as a humorist. He is a regular contributor to Leslie's, Judge, Collier's and Life. He is in Los Angeles on a trip around the world to write humorous travelogues for Leslie's and Judge. His newest book, 'When to Lock the Stable,' will be issued by Bobbs, Merrill & Co., next month."

But here's the prize fight:

Last night I went to the Kenneth-Norton fight.

This was the first prize fight that I ever attended, and I was much pained at the way the two gentlemen treated each other at Mr. McCarey's arena. There seemed to have been something between them, but I did not learn what it was. A number of gentlemen had also heard that Mr. Kenneth and Mr. Norton were to spend the evening together, for I could hardly get a seat on the car.

The two men had evidently never met before, although there seemed to be bad blood between them, for someone had to introduce them. Although I was right at the edge of the platform, where the introduction took place, I did not hear them pass any unpleasantities. Neither seemed to be glad to have the pleasure of meeting the other, and the weather was not mentioned in my hearing.

A gentleman who seemed well acquainted introduced dozens of young men before the fight began. I noticed a few on the rear seats who were not presented. Each time a gentleman was introduced his relatives cheered wildly, whereupon the gentleman would put on his hat and get down off the platform.

A large man with a pair of glasses and a cigar pointed at the Great Dipper suddenly beat on a bell, with that Kenneth came out of one corner and Norton out of the other, each dressed as though he was on the way from the bathroom. Kenneth had a band around his waist and his hair low on his forehead, while Norton had on a pair of black trousers meant for a much younger man. They began at his waist and only made a brief start for his knees.

In stockings Norton was much more fortunate than the man who shook hands with him, but who later turned out to be an adversary. Kenneth's stockings had a hard struggle to get over his shoe tops, while Norton's black stockings were pulled high. Without seeming to stare, I tried to find what kept them up, but was unable to do so. They were as neat as an exhibition pair in a clothier's window, and still no velvet grip was to be seen.

Between acts I tried to get to him to ask him what system he used, but at the end of every film acquaintances of his crowded around him with sponges and kept his attention, so that I was not able to get a word with him.

When the man with the stiff hat and the cigar set on infinity beat the bell the men advanced toward each other in a stooping position. At once I scented that something was the matter. Although they had just shaken hands, something told me that all was not well. True enough, a few moments later my predictions were fulfilled.

Without warning one of the men struck at the other, whereupon the other bit his lip and came back at him before a hand could be raised. Then the first one struck again, and they kept this up until the man with the hat and the cigar pounded on the bell. Then the men stopped and sat down in their corners. But the man with the hollow-eyed-looking cigar did not let well enough alone—he struck the bell again, and before anyone could realize what was happening the men were at it again—more revengeful than ever.

Another Opportunity.
[The following poem called "Opportunity," written by Walter Malone, is an answer to the famous Kansas classic by John J. Ingalls.]
They do me wrong who say I come no more
When once I knock and fail to find you in,
For every day I stand outside your door
And bid you wake and rise to fight and win.
Wait not for precious chances passed away,
Weep not for golden ages on the wane;
Each night I burn the records of the day;
At sunrise every soul is born again.
Laugh like a boy at splendors that have sped,
To vanished joys be blind and deaf and dumb;
My judgments seal the dead past with its dead,
But never find a moment yet to come.
Though deep in mire, wring not your hands and weep;
I lend my arm to all who say "I can."
No shamefaced outcast ever sank so deep
But he might rise and be again a man.

ANAEMIC SINCE CHILDHOOD. How Miss Holmes Regained Her Health.

If you are anaemic, you need more iron in your blood, and the tell-tale symptoms are a pale face—colorless lips, ashen finger nails, poor circulation, and short breath, and more serious diseases are easily contracted when in this condition.
What Vinol did for Miss Yvonne Holmes of Fall River, Mass., it will do for every anaemic run-down person. She says: "I have been weak and anaemic since childhood, always had 'that tired feeling.' Tonic after tonic was tried with little or no result until Vinol was recommended, and after taking three bottles my appetite and digestion have been improved. I do not suffer any more from insomnia, nor do I have distressing headaches as formerly, and I am stronger than I have been for years."

We ask every anaemic or run-down, weak person in this vicinity to try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that their money will be returned if it does not do all we claim. Orear-Henry Drug Co., Maryville, Mo.—Advertisement.

Senator Craig wrote: "My present ambition is to make good in the senate, and if my friends then think my work merits further service, I shall be at their command."

"Paul, the Traveler."

Gene Field Called Her "Cousin Hattie."

Miss Harriet M. Dewey was 70 years old yesterday. A birthday reception—probably the first ever given in a newspaper office—was tendered her by her friends and co-workers of the Chicago Daily News, where she has worked so long that she herself is not exactly sure how many years. It was followed by a dinner for thirty-five guests in the college room of the Hotel LaSalle. More than five hundred invitations were issued for the reception. They were sent all over the United States to men and women who, in her long years of service at the Daily News, Miss Dewey has paid, first gold in the old days, and later checks.

Miss Dewey has been with the Daily News between thirty-five and forty years. She declares that Mr. Lawson always says he "bought her with the fixtures of the old Chicago Post," with which she was connected when it failed. "Certainly," she adds with a little smile, "I have been a fixture." Melville E. Stone was managing editor of the paper at that time, and soon after Eugene Field came to write his famous "Sharps and Flats."

"Eugene Field used to run down the stairs there every Monday morning past my desk," Miss Dewey said, "shouting 'Where's my Cousin Hattie?' I wonder if she's going to save my life today?" He always wanted an advance the day before pay day.

Later came George Ade, John McCutcheon, Carl Smith and a long line of men who grew famous while Miss Dewey was paying them checks.

At the dinner last night a miniature paper was circulated among the guests, "The Chicago Dewey News," with the announcement that it has the "largest circulation in Chicago (that is, larger than outside of Chicago)." It contained cartoons by artists who have worked with Miss Dewey, poems by Carl Smith, Eugene Field and Duncan M. Smith, and the following fac simile note.

Miss Dewey: Dear Hattie—As a very unusual surprise, please let bearer have $5 for me.

EUGENE FIELD.

A little biography written by Amy Leslie refers to her as "Aunt Harriet, with the moonlight upon her hair and the sweetness of a morning glory upon her lips."—Chicago Record-Herald.

CHILDREN HATE OIL,
CALOMEL AND PILLS

"California Syrup of Figs" Best for
Tender Stomach, Liver, Bowels
—Tastes Delicious.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Advertisement.

PLATTE VALLEY.

This is moving week, and several are taking advantage of the custom. C. C. Nelson and family moved Monday to their new home in Guilford. C. D. Farnan and family moved Tuesday to the John Cook farm, in the valley, which he purchased this spring.

Leslie Wilson and bride spent Saturday evening and Sunday the guests of Roy Wilson and wife.

E. G. Dougan and wife were guests Sunday at the home of Ollie Breit and wife.

February 26 a boy came to the home of W. T. Throckmorton's and demanded his fatherly care for twenty-one years.

Pete Wolf finished cleaning up his hog yards Tuesday and Wednesday and is moving to his new location, one-half mile south on M. Whiteford's land.

Ollie and Till Breit and W. B. Torrance are hauling wood and piling it up preparatory to having it sawed by a buzz saw.

Erith Dowd moved from the Robert Todd farm to near King City, where he will farm the coming season.

Frank Hughes is moving on the Robert Todd farm, and Homer Hughes and his bride will live on the Ed Jones farm. We saw Homer and his bride hauling some new furniture out from town Monday.

Till Breit and wife attended the funeral Sunday of Cal Campbell, who died from poisoning from eating oysters. This and pneumonia together was too much for him and caused his death. His 6-year-old son is yet in a critical condition from the same cause.

Nealy Mossing, Charles Gittings and C. Schaaf of Clyde were among the Maryville visitors Thursday.

would strike the bell the men would leap into the middle of the platform as though the other had said something about some one in his family. I tried to signal to the man with the bell, but I could not catch his eye. If he had stayed away there would have been little or no trouble.

Every time the men would come back to the corners, ready to patch it up, their friends with the sponges would say something to them that would make them want to go back again. Had it not been for the men with the sponges the difficulty could have been settled, I believe, to the satisfaction of all.

As soon as the men would return to their corners their friends would give them lemons to eat. I could see through this at once—this was to make them more bitter against each other. Everything during the whole evening seemed to be planned to arouse the men's feeling against each other.

Sometimes in spite of the false friends who urged the men to struggle with each other, Mr. Kenneth and Mr. Norton would find some little thread of mutual admiration and friendship, for every now and then they would break into a tango. However, they seemed to use their hands more in executing the dance than was really necessary. No sooner would one of the men break into a few graceful movements than his friend in the corner with the sponge would urge him to betray the other by striking him full in the face.

Time after time I saw one man strike the other in the face and openly gloat over it. It pains me to think what kind of families that they must have been brought up in. Every time one of them put his glove in the other's face I was glad it was not my face. I shall always take pains to leave my face outside the ring. When there is any fighting to be done I shall always see to it that my face is well in the rear.

The good fighters seemed to be outside the ropes. The best advice seemed to come from small, undersized men who looked as though they would have to tell their wives when they got home that they had been unavoidably detained by business. These men kept shouting directions to the two men with the boys' sized trousers where to strike and how to win the contest, and often said hasty words—that I feel sure they will repent later—when the contestants did not follow directions.

Every one of these men had a different recipe for winning the pennant, and each one acted as though it was a personal affront when the fighter did not follow his advice. No doubt if any one of these hundreds of men had been let into the ring he would have made short work of the man with the gloves on. Los Angeles seems to be a city of men almost any one of which can step into the ring and make whole families mourn.

Every time the man with the hat and the gift-looking cigar would give the bell a rap and the men would fly at each other to settle old scores I would think that Al Norton's stockings would slip down, but still they stayed as though he was just getting ready to lead the Country club cotillion. If he should ever tire of letting a man who had just been introduced to him get out on a platform and misuse his face, he has a wonderful field open to him by demonstrating hostility in a shop window.

The most wonderful feat I saw at the fight was the way Al Norton's socks stayed up.

Facts About Western Canada

The farmer of today is recognized as a business man and puts himself on the pay roll at a salary beyond the dreams of the average man in the city, and he pays dividends on his investment.

Nowhere is he in a better position to realize the full profit of this condition than in Western Canada, with the rich productive soil at small cost and splendid markets; realizing from 40 to 100 per cent on his investment and obtaining the independence that cannot belong to any other business man.

The 433,000,000 bushel grain crop of Saskatchewan and Alberta yielded $235,000,000 to the farmers last year. This represents the partial yield of less than 15 per cent of the available land under cultivation. Millions upon millions of acres of the finest arable land in the world awaits the plough—YOUR PLOUGH.

The annual increase in the world's population establishes an ever-growing market, and nowhere can you find more ideal conditions for grain raising than Western Canada affords. Grain growing, however, is but one item in the success of the Canadian farmer.

Our first excursion to this country of opportunity will be April 7th. For rates and terms see

The fires have cost the lives of two firemen, the serious injury of a dozen others and property damage aggregating $1,000,000.

MAAS REPLIES TO TEXAS INQUIRY

Federal General Orders Arrest of Vergara's Slayes.

GOV. COLQUITT GETS ACTION.

Examination into Killing of Benton and Disappearance of Bauch Is Begun by the Carranza Commission at Juarez.

Austin, Tex., March 6.—Replying to the Texas governor's inquiry concerning a requisition for the kidnapers of Clemente Vergara, an American citizen; General Joaquin Maas, Mexican federal general commanding the district where Vergara was lured into Mexico and reported executed, wired that he had ordered the arrest of the persons named. His telegram did not say whether, if apprehended, they would be surrendered to Texas.

General Maas signed his telegram as "governor general of the state of Coahuila," sending the message from Saltillo.

Governor Colquitt did not send a formal requisition, but inquired whether a Texas requisition would be honored. The individuals he named were Apolonia Rodriguez, reputed to be a federal captain, and men said to be under his command, who were charged with stealing Vergara's horses from an island in the Rio Grande, claimed to be on the American side of the line. As Vergara's reported death occurred on the Mexican side the only charge on which a requisition could be based was horse stealing.

Must Pay Half Million or Be Shot.

El Paso, Tex., March 6.—General Luis Terrazas appealed to Marlon Letcher, American consul at Chihuahua, now in this city awaiting instructions, to save his son, Luis, whose life has been declared the forfeit if 500,000 pesos ransom money is not paid over to General Francisco Villa, the rebel leader.

Consul Letcher declared himself deeply moved by the appeal of the octogenarian head of the great Mexican family, whose wide possessions have been confiscated by the constitutionalists, but he had to reply that he was helpless in the matter.

Examination into the execution by General Villa of William S. Benton, British subject, and into the disappearance of Gustav Bauch, German American, was begun at Juarez by the Mexican commission appointed by General Carranza, chief of the constitutionalists.

The commission will endeavor to ascertain whether the arrest and conviction of Benton was made according to due form of law and justice. It is not expected that an examination will be made of Benton's body.

An attempt will be made by the Mexican commissioners to learn whether Bauch was executed or whether he is still alive. The Anglo-American commission was still awaiting instructions from Washington.

REVOLT STARTS IN BRAZIL

State of Siege Is Reported Proclaimed in Rio Janeiro.

Rio Janeiro, March 6.—The Brazilian government authorities proclaimed a state of siege in the cities of Rio Janeiro, Niteroy and Petropolis. This is to remain in force until March 31. The government's action is taken as a preventive measure against any possible trouble.

Disturbances were feared from some elements of the population as a result of a recent insurrection in the province of Ceara, where the situation is reported worst.

Managing editors of three of the principal newspapers, Aepoca, Correio da Noite and O Imparcial, were placed under arrest, while Generals Thauder, Azevedo and Feliciano Mendes de Moraes, two colonels and some other officers of the army were also made prisoners.

FILM MEN ARE CONVICTED

Author and Manager of Theater Found Guilty by Jury.

New York, March 6.—The jury which witnessed white slavery motion picture films in the court of general sessions convicted Samuel H. London, who wrote the story depicted by the film, and Harry C. Bohn, manager of a theater where it had been produced of showing pictures of an immoral character. The jury deliberated less than an hour. Extreme clemency was recommended, and the men were paroled for a sentence next Thursday.

McGoorty Will Fight Carpenter.
Chicago, March 6.—Eddie McGoorty, the Wisconsin boxer now in Australia, will meet Georges Carpenter, the French champion, in a bout in Ireland some time in May, which will have an important bearing on their claims to the world's middleweight championship. News of the arrangements for the bout reached Chicago in a message from McGoorty, who said he would leave Sydney on March 18 for Dublin. Richard Croker is said to have offered a purse of $20,000 for the battle.

Ex-Senator From Nevada Dies.

WON FIRST PRIZE

RUTH OLNEY WRITES STORY THAT GETS FIRST HONORS.

BRIGHT YOUNG LADY

Has Had Unusual Training—Story Was Published in Twentieth Century Farmer.

Ruth Olney, the 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Olney of this city, has just received word from Miss Ruth A. Bailey, editor of the home department of the Twentieth Century Farmer, published at Omaha, that she won the first prize offered to the boy or girl for the best original story of less than 200 words received by that department for the month of February.

About a month ago Ruth, who is a student in Miss Maud Bainum's room at the Garfield school, was at home sick of the whooping cough. The time dragged heavily to her, as she was used to being in school, having commenced in her kindergarten years at the State Normal. Then, too, she has had unusual training for a little girl, and she simply can't be still and do nothing. Her grandmother, Mrs. Goblet, a lovely French woman, was her most devoted nurse from her babyhood, and she spoke that language first, as it was and now is used in her home. Then after her grandmother's death she began the use of English under her mother's teaching. She never knew "baby talk," and her use of English is founded on strict grammatical knowledge, as is also her French, although the latter was unconsciously gained.

But we are away off from the beginning of this story. As we said before, Ruth was at home with the whooping cough, and she didn't know what to do with all her time, and was asking her mother's advice about what she should do, when Mrs. Olney, who was reading the Twentieth Century Farmer, suggested that she write a letter to Miss Ruth Bailey of the home department. The Olneys are soon going to live on a farm in Arkansas, and Ruth thought at once it would be nice to have a friend on the Twentieth Century Farmer.

Ruth has long been a friend of Flossie Fisher of the Ladies' Home Journal, and corresponds with her frequently. She wrote and told her about her whooping cough and received such a nice, sympathetic letter in reply from Flossie (she of Flossie Fisher's Funnies) that she concluded to cultivate another friend in Miss Bailey.

So Ruth sat down and thought a while, and after a time decided to tell about a most exciting experience she had not quite a month before that—an experience she had not recovered from and would not be able to forget for a long time. It happened right by Mr. A. J. Luppold's residence on South Main street, while she was on her way to her grandma Olney's house. The cat in the story is Stewart Luppold's cat. This is the story as it appears in the Twentieth Century Farmer:

An Exciting Adventure.
(By Ruth Todd Olney, Aged 8, Maryville, Mo.)

One morning in January my papa asked me if I would take a chicken to my grandma, who lives only a short distance away. I have a big shepherd dog, whose name is Ponto, and he goes everywhere I go. When I had gone half way, on a porch there lay a big cat. The cat did not see my big dog trotting along. Whenever Ponto sees a cat he will run after it.

Poor kitty was dozing so peacefully, when Ponto slipped up and frightened her so badly she did not know what to do. As there was nothing by her for to run up, she saw me and thought she could make her escape by running up on my head.

You can guess how I felt. The cat was scratching my head; Ponto was barking, and the chicken was squawking. I did not feel like laughing. I grabbed the cat by the tail and pulled her off my head, and she made her escape by running up a telephone pole. I held on to the chicken and delivered it to grandma, who called me a brave girl.

Those who know Ruth can shut their eyes and hear her say this, it is so like the way she talks.

A few days ago Ruth received a beautiful story book entitled "Phillip in Texas," an entrancing tale of a boy and his day on a sheep ranch. There was nothing with the book at the time to tell why she had received it, and the Olneys did not know until Thursday that Ruth had won the prize. So this is a "feather in the cap" of the Garfield school, as well as that of the little winner, and The Democrat-Forum takes off its hat and makes it's best bow to them.

A CREDITABLE PERFORMANCE.

The Normal Society Play, "A College Town," Well Attended and a Success Throughout.

About 400 people witnessed the Normal society play, "A College Town," given Thursday evening by the Philomathean and Eureka Literary societies at the Normal school. The play was a success throughout and the crowd was well pleased. The actors showed much preparation, all who took part were indeed a credit to themselves and to Prof. Harry A. Miller, who has had charge of the production.

Harry Kissinger, who played the leading role as Jimmie Cavendish, a rah rah boy; Bernice Bullock, who played with Jimmie, both made a hit and showed artistic qualities. Prof. Senachareib Popp, who was played by Paul Powell, was portrayed excellently. Myrtle McPherson as Ma Buggsby and Ray McPherson as Leiviticus, the ace of spades, made good with the audience. Others of the cast were Arlie Hulet as Miss Jane Cavendish, Dale Hulet, Mrs. Twigg, Charles McReynolds, who made a hit with both sexes when he took the part of a widow, and Halley Ford, who was also good as Aunt Jane.

A FORMER RESIDENT.

H. C. Gilbert, Judge of the County Court, Who Was Indicted at Kansas City, Known Here.

H. C. Gilbert, judge of the county court of Jackson county, was indicted Thursday by the grand jury in session at Kansas City and was declared extravagant in deals with contractors and small jobs at big prices stretched out until original estimates were lost sight of, it is declared. E. E. Axline, a former member of the county court, was also indicted with Judge Gilbert. Gilbert is known in Maryville, having lived here four years during the eighties. He was employed in the office of N. Sisson during that time and made many friends here.

The charge is misappropriation of county money in the settlement of a claim for extras by Taylor & Winn, contractors, who built the county home in Jackson county. The payment was made by the county court in February, 1911, and received the affirmative votes of the three Democrats then on the court—Judge Gilbert, Judge Axline and the late Judge E. L. Martin.

WAGE EARNERS CLASS.

Will Hear Illustrated Lecture Friday Evening on "The Coming City," With Suggestions for Us.

The Wage Earners class of the Buchanan Street Methodist Church will hold its regular business meeting Friday evening at the Buchanan Street Methodist church.

At 8:30 the pastor, Rev. J. D. Randolph, will give an illustrated lecture on "The Coming City" that is especially timely, as Maryville is to soon hold its city election. The lecture is along municipal lines and the pictures to be shown will illustrate the advancement being made in European cities, as well as in American cities. The matter of civic improvement is brought out splendidly in these pictures, and the lecture is one that all interested in the betterment of their town should hear and see. The lecture is free to all.

CONSIDERING REST ROOM.

Federation Committee in Conference With County Court—Action to Be Taken at April Term.

A committee from the Federation of Women's Clubs met with the members of the county court on Thursday afternoon to discuss the proposition of a ladies' rest room in the court house. Lincoln Bent, a contractor of this city, accompanied the committee and gave a rough estimate as to the cost of the work. The court instructed Mr. Bent to make out his figures and give an outline of what should be done and report at the April term of the county court, when probably some action will be taken. The members of the court are favorable toward a rest room for Maryville, but don't want to spend any more money for that purpose than is necessary.

Miss Hazel Parker went to Pickering Thursday for a short visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Wray.

MUST FIX ITS DAM

MARYVILLE NEGLECTED TO PROVIDE A FISH LADDER.

WILL COST ABOUT $100

Deputy State Game Warden Was Here to See About It—The Work Will Be Done This Spring.

C. R. Cortner, deputy state game warden, was in Maryville Wednesday looking after the new concrete dam of the City Water company in the 102 river. He asked the board of public works to put in a fish chute or ladder at the dam so the fish may go over the dam going up stream.

The state law calls for a wooden inclined plane with alternate pockets at the sides to catch the water and break the force of the current. The chute is covered. The bulkhead must rest in a recess in the dam, and here is where the solid concrete must be cut away.

The dam is sixteen feet high, but eleven feet of it is in the river bed. City Engineer Flynt estimated the cost to be between $50 and $75 to complete the chute. The work will be done this spring.

MEETINGS CLOSE TONIGHT.

Dr. Hale Will Deliver Closing Sermon of Revival at First Baptist Church Friday Night.

The revival services at the First Baptist church will close with this Friday night's service. The result so far has been far beyond the expectations of the church membership. One was received for membership Thursday evening and one asked for prayer, making 110 additions to the present time.

Dr. Hale spoke Thursday night from Paul's words: "This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners." It makes such a difference with most people as to who says a thing. Men of character, men whose lives can prove their sayings, are those who influence us for or against Christianity. The life and character of Jesus was of world-transforming power, and when a man of Paul's colossal character speaks from his own Christian experience, what the man Jesus was to him, it cannot be gained. The mission of the Lord Jesus Christ is a revelation of the spirit of Christianity, and all they who are filled with this spirit have proven it through the years. All through the world today are people proving the spirit of Christ and are laying themselves down for others. Every material evidence of Christ's having lived in the world may be removed, but the life He brought with Him and is daily giving into the hearts of those who are seeking Him is all that is needed to prove His presence.

Dr. Hale's sermon Thursday night was of the highest spiritual type. He carried his hearers far beyond any material belief into the most rapturous Christian experience, where the presence of God is known and felt. A large crowd is expected at Friday night's service.

Visited Sick Daughter.

Mrs. George Daniels of Barnard visited in Maryville Thursday afternoon with her daughter, Miss Verda Daniels, who is ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Spier. Miss Daniels came to Maryville the first of the week for her usual musical studies at the Conservatory, also intending to visit Mrs. Spier and attend the Baptist meetings, when she was taken with acute indigestion. She was some better Friday.

Wadley Brothers Moving In.

Wadley Bros. are moving their harness and wagon store into their new building, on the east side of the square, which they recently purchased. They have put in an entire new front and made many other improvements, and the building presents a very attractive appearance. It will make a nice place for their store.

NEWS SERVICE BY PHONE.

Subscribers Are Called Every Morning and the Events Are Read to Them.

Of all the curious news systems found in the old countries, Walter Williams of Missouri says the Budapest newspaper telephone service was the most interesting.

Mr. Williams has been visiting the newspaper offices of Europe, Asia, Australia and elsewhere for the purpose of making a study of the various methods, and he has run across a world of interesting material which will stand him in good hand as head of Missouri's great school of journalism.

"Budapest has the only telephone newspaper system in the world," said Mr. Williams. "As soon as I learned that I was naturally interested in observing how it was conducted. The service employs a staff of editorial writers, a telegraph editor, reporters, society and dramatic writers and advertising men just the same as any well equipped newspaper plant. The writers get up their copy just like they would if it were going to a linotype, and it is passed to the editor."

"The hours of sending out the news are from 9 o'clock in the morning to 10 o'clock at night. In the home of every subscriber the news is coming in daily between those hours, and all you have to do is to pick up the receiver and hear it."

"There is a printed schedule near the subscribers' phone, which informs him the class of news going over at a certain hour. For instance, they will start in on the most important foreign news and run that for an hour, then an hour of city news, then editorials, dramatic, society, sporting and so on. "Each class of news has its own specified hour, and is read into the sender by the writer in charge of his respective department."

"Suppose some particularly interesting news item were to occur during the transmission of the daily service?"

"The very question I asked the managing editor," said Mr. Williams, "and he showed me how it was done. He wrote a few lines on a slip of paper and handed it to a man who at the time happened to be sending a resume of an important session of parliament. The sender called through his instrument:

"Parliament proceedings suspended for an important announcement: Walter Williams, dean of the school of journalism, Missouri, United States of America, is here. He is visiting the old world nations with his family and is studying the methods of newspaper making as an aid to instruction in his country."

"I was somewhat startled, but also gratified at the editor's very courteous and effective way of answering my question, and in the general air of hospitality about the unique establishment."

Budapest is the capital of Hungary. In commerce and industry it ranks next to Vienna in the empire.

TO COLLECT AT DOOR.

Contributions to Band at Sunday Concerts Have Been Small.

These concerts have been very popular and the attendance has been large, but the contributions have been small. The contributions will be taken at the door Sunday. The band has been unable to pay the expenses of these concerts out of the small contributions.

ATTENDED FIGHT

HOMER CROY WROTE ABOUT IT FOR LOS ANGELES PAPER.

NOT IN FAVOR OF THEM

His Report of the Prize Fight Is Different From Most Reports of That Kind.

Homer Croy is in Los Angeles now. At least he was there last week. He went to the Kenneth-Norton prize fight, and the Los Angeles Express had him tell about it for that paper. Homer is not in favor of them, however, and as his report of them is different from most prize fight reports, we do not hesitate to give it. The Los Angeles Express, in introducing the reporter of the prize fight, says:

"Homer Croy is famed over the United States as a humorist. He is a regular contributor to Leslie's, Judge, Collier's and Life. He is in Los Angeles on a trip around the world to write humorous travelogues for Leslie's and Judge. His newest book, "When to Lock the Stable," will be issued by Bobbs, Merrill & Co., next month."

But here's the prize fight: Last night I went to the Kenneth-Norton fight.

This was the first prize fight that I ever attended, and I was much pained at the way the two gentlemen treated each other at Mr. McCarey's arena. There seemed to have been something between them, but I did not learn what it was. A number of gentlemen had also heard that Mr. Kenneth and Mr. Norton were to spend the evening together, for I could hardly get a seat on the car.

The two men had evidently never met before, although there seemed to be bad blood between them, for someone had to introduce them. Although I was right at the edge of the platform, where the introduction took place, I did not hear them pass any unpleasantities. Neither seemed to be glad to have the pleasure of meeting the other, and the weather was not mentioned in my hearing.

A gentleman who seemed well acquainted introduced dozens of young men before the fight began. I noticed a few on the rear seats who were not presented. Each time a gentleman was introduced his relatives cheered wildly, whereupon the gentleman would put on his hat and get down off the platform.

A large man with a pair of glasses and a cigar pointed at the Great Dipper suddenly beat on a bell, with that Kenneth came out of one corner and Norton out of the other, each dressed as though he was on the way from the bathroom. Kenneth had a band around his waist and his hair low on his forehead, while Norton had on a pair of black trousers meant for a much younger man. They began at his waist and only made a brief start for his knees.

In stockings Norton was much more fortunate than the man who shook hands with him, but who later turned out to be an adversary. Kenneth's stockings had a hard struggle to get over his shoe tops, while Norton's black stockings were pulled high. Without seeming to stare, I tried to find what kept them up, but was unable to do so. They were as neat as an exhibition pair in a clothier's window, and still no velvet grip was to be seen.

Between acts I tried to get to him to ask him what system he used, but at the end of every film acquaintances of his crowded around him with sponges and kept his attention, so that I was not able to get a word with him.

When the man with the stiff hat and the cigar set on infinity beat each other in a stooping position. At once I scented that something was the matter. Although they had just shaken hands, something told me that all was not well. True enough, a few moments later my predictions were fulfilled.

Without warning one of the men struck at the other, whereupon the other bit his lip and came back at him before a hand could be raised. Then the first one struck again, and they kept this up until the man with the hat and the cigar pounded on the bell. Then the men stopped and sat down in their corners. But the man with the hollow-eyed-looking cigar did not let well enough alone—he struck the bell again, and before anyone could realize what was happening the men were at it again—more revengeful than ever.

Every time the man with the hat

Another Opportunity.

[The following poem called "Opportunity," written by Walter Malone, is an answer to the famous Kansas classic by John J. Ingalls.]

They do me wrong who say I come no more

"When once I knock and fail to find you in,

For every day I stand outside your door

And bid you wake and rise to fight and win.

Wait not for precious chances passed away.

Weep not for golden ages on the wane;

Each night I burn the records of the day;

At sunrise every soul is born again.

Laugh like a boy at splendors that have sped,

To vanished joys be blind and deaf and dumb;

My judgments seal the dead past with its dead,

But never find a moment yet to come,

Though deep in mire, wring not your hands and weep;

I lend my arm to all who say "I can."

No shamefaced outcast ever sank so deep

But he might rise and be again a man.

ANAEMIC SINCE CHILDHOOD.

How Miss Holmes Regained Her Health.

If you are anaemic, you need more iron in your blood, and the tell-tale symptoms are a pale face—colorless lips, ashen finger nails, poor circulation, and short breath, and more serious diseases are easily contracted when in this condition.

What Vinol did for Miss Yvonne Holmes of Fall River, Mass., it will do for every anaemic run-down person. She says: "I have been weak and anaemic since childhood, always had 'that tired feeling.' Tonic after tonic was tried with little or no result until Vinol was recommended, and after taking three bottles my appetite and digestion have been improved. I do not suffer any more from insomnia, nor do I have distressing headaches as formerly, and I am stronger than I have been for years."

We ask every anaemic or run-down, weak person in this vicinity to try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that their money will be returned if it does not do all we claim. Orear-Henry Drug Co., Maryville, Mo.—Advertisement.

To Make Good as Senator.

The following is from Thursday's St. Joseph News-Press:

J. W. Morris, assistant superintendent of the state free employment bureau, formerly a resident of Maryville, this morning received a letter from State Senator Anderson Craig of Maryville, who has been mentioned as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor. Senator Craig wrote: "My present ambition is to make good in the senate, and if my friends then think my work merits further service, I shall be at their command."

"Paul, the Traveler."

Rev. Gilbert S. Cox of the First M. E. church will speak upon this subject the coming Sunday evening. The subject was announced for two weeks ago, but owing to the severe storm of that day, Sunday, February 22, caused its postponement, as there were no services that evening.

FIVE-MINUTE CURE IF STOMACH IS BAD

When "Pape's Diapepsin" Reaches Stomach All Indigestion, Gas and Sourness Disappears.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain, unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.—Advertisement.

Gene Field Called Her "Cousin Hattie."

Miss Harriet M. Dewey was 70 years old yesterday. A birthday reception—probably the first ever given in a newspaper office—was tendered her by her friends and co-workers of the Chicago Daily News, where she has worked so long that she herself is not exactly sure how many years. It was followed by a dinner for thirty-five guests in the college room of the Hotel LaSalle. More than five hundred invitations were issued for the reception. They were sent all over the United States to men and women who, in her long years of service at the Daily News, Miss Dewey has paid, first gold in the old days, and later checks.

Miss Dewey has been with the Daily News between thirty-five and forty years. She declares that Mr. Lawson always says he "bought her with the fixtures of the old Chicago Post," with which she was connected when it failed. "Certainly," she adds with a little smile, "I have been a fixture." Melville E. Stone was managing editor of the paper at that time, and soon after Eugene Field came to write his famous "Sharps and Flats."

"Eugene Field used to run down the stairs there every Monday morning past my desk," Miss Dewey said, "shouting 'Where's my Cousin Hattie? I wonder if she's going to save my life today?' He always wanted an advance the day before pay day."

Later came George Ade, John McCutcheon, Carl Smith and a long line of men who grew famous while Miss Dewey was paying them checks.

At the dinner last night a miniature paper was circulated among the guests, "The Chicago Dewey News," with the announcement that it has the "largest circulation in Chicago (that is, larger than outside of Chicago)." It contained cartoons by artists who have worked with Miss Dewey, poems by Carl Smith, Eugene Field and Duncan M. Smith, and the following fac simile note.

Miss Dewey: Dear Hattie—As a very unusual surprise, please let bearer have $5 for me.

CHILDREN HATE OIL,
CALOMEL AND PILLS

"California Syrup of Figs" Best for
Tender Stomach, Liver, Bowels
—Tastes Delicious.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Advertisement.

PLATTE VALLEY.

This is moving week, and several are taking advantage of the custom.

C. C. Nelson and family moved Monday to their new home in Guilford.

C. D. Farnan and family moved Tuesday to the John Cook farm, in the valley, which he purchased this spring.

Leslie Wilson and bride spent Saturday evening and Sunday the guests of Roy Wilson and wife.

E. G. Dougan and wife were guests Sunday at the home of Ollie Breit and wife.

February 26 a boy came to the home of W. T. Throckmorton's and demanded his fatherly care for twenty-one years.

Pete Wolf finished cleaning up his hog yards Tuesday and Wednesday and is moving to his new location, one-half mile south on M. Whiteford's land.

Ollie and Till Breit and W. B. Torrance are hauling wood and piling it up preparatory to having it sawed by a buzz saw.

Erith Dowd moved from the Robert Todd farm to near King City, where he will farm the coming season.

Frank Hughes is moving on the Robert Todd farm, and Homer Hughes and his bride will live on the Ed Jones farm. We saw Homer and his bride hauling some new furniture out from town Monday.

Till Breit and wife attended the funeral Sunday of Cal Campbell, who died from poisoning from eating oysters. This and pneumonia together was too much for him and caused his death. His 6-year-old son is yet in a critical condition from the same cause.

Nealy Mossing, Charles Gittings and C. Schaaf of Clyde were among the Maryville visitors Thursday.

would strike the bell the men would leap into the middle of the platform as though the other had said something about some one in his family. I tried to signal to the man with the bell, but I could not catch his eye. If he had stayed away there would have been little or no trouble.

Every time the men would come back to the corners, ready to patch it up, their friends with the sponges would say something to them that would make them want to go back again. Had it not been for the men with the sponges the difficulty could have been settled, I believe, to the satisfaction of all.

As soon as the men would return to their corners their friends would give them lemons to eat. I could see through this at once—this was to make them more bitter against each other. Everything during the whole evening seemed to be planned to arouse the men's feeling against each other.

Sometimes in spite of the false friends who urged the men to struggle with each other, Mr. Kenneth and Mr. Norton would find some little thread of mutual admiration and friendship, for every now and then they would break into a tango. However, they seemed to use their hands more in executing the dance than was really necessary. No sooner would one of the men break into a few graceful movements than his friend in the corner with the sponge would urge him to betray the other by striking him full in the face.

Time after time I saw one man strike the other in the face and openly gloat over it. It pains me to think what kind of families that they must have been brought up in. Every time one of them put his glove in the other's face I was glad it was not my face. I shall always take pains to leave my face outside the ring. When there is any fighting to be done I shall always see to it that my face is well in the rear.

The good fighters seemed to be outside the ropes. The best advice seemed to come from small, undersized men who looked as though they would have to tell their wives when they got home that they had been unavoidably detained by business. These men kept shouting directions to the two men with the boys' sized trousers where to strike and how to win the contest, and often said hasty words—that I feel sure they will repent later—when the contestants did not follow directions.

Every one of these men had a different recipe for winning the pennant, and each one acted as though it was a personal affront when the fighter did not follow his advice. No doubt if any one of these hundreds of men had been let into the ring he would have made short work of the man with the gloves on. Los Angeles seems to be a city of men almost any one of which can step into the ring and make whole families mourn.

Every time the man with the hat and the gift-looking cigar would give the bell a rap and the men would fly at each other to settle old scores I would think that Al Norton's stockings would slip down, but still they stayed as though he was just getting ready to lead the Country club cotillion. If he should ever tire of letting a man who had just been introduced to him get out on a platform and misuse his face, he has a wonderful field open to him by demonstrating hosiery in a shop window.

The most wonderful feat I saw at the fight was the way Al Norton's socks stayed up.

Facts About Western Canada

The farmer of today is recognized as a business man and puts himself on the pay roll at a salary beyond the dreams of the average man in the city, and he pays dividends on his investment.

Nowhere is he in a better position to realize the full profit of this condition than in Western Canada, with the rich productive soil at small cost and splendid markets; realizing from 40 to 100 per cent on his investment and obtaining the independence that cannot belong to any other business man.

The 433,000,000 bushel grain crop of Saskatchewan and Alberta yielded $235,000,000 to the farmers last year. This represents the partial yield of less than 15 per cent of the available land under cultivation. Millions upon millions of acres of the finest arable land in the world awaits the plough—YOUR PLOUGH.

The annual increase in the world's population establishes an ever-growing market, and nowhere can you find more ideal conditions for grain raising than Western Canada affords. Grain growing, however, is but one item in the success of the Canadian farmer.

Another Fire at St. Louis.

St. Louis, March 6.—The police and fire departments began an investigation into the cause of a fire at Third and Locust streets, which resulted in the death of a fireman and damage to property estimated at $100,000. This was the fourth fire of unknown origin discovered during as many days within a radius of four blocks in the heart of the business district. The fires have cost the lives of two firemen, the serious injury of a dozen others and property damage aggregating $1,000,000.

Internal Revenue Comes to Rescue.

Washington, March 6.—While customs receipts have fallen off under the new tariff law, the internal revenue bureau is coming to the rescue with increased collections from indirect taxes. The total collected by the bureau from July 1, 1913, to Jan. 31, 1914, was $191,792,279, an increase of $2,636,329 over the corresponding period for the previous year.

TEXAS INQUIRYFederal General Orders Arrest of Vergara's Slayers.

GOV. COLQUITT GETS ACTION.

Examination into Killing of Benton
and Disappearance of Bauch is Begun by the Carranza Commission at Juarez.

Austin, Tex., March 6.—Replying to the Texas governor's inquiry concerning a requisition for the kidnapers of Clemente Vergara, an American citizen, General Joaquin Maas, Mexican federal general commanding the district where Vergara was lured into Mexico and reported executed, wired that he had ordered the arrest of the persons named. His telegram did not say whether, if apprehended, they would be surrendered to Texas.

General Maas signed his telegram as "governor general of the state of Coahuila," sending the message from Saltillo.

Governor Colquitt did not send a formal request, but inquired whether a Texas requisition would be honored. The individuals he named were Apollonio Rodriguez, reputed to be a federal captain, and men said to be under his command, who were charged with stealing Vergara's horses from an island in the Rio Grande, claimed to be on the American side of the line. As Vergara's reported death occurred on the Mexican side the only charge on which a requisition could be based was horse stealing.

Must Pay Half Million or Be Shot.

El Paso, Tex., March 6.—General Luis Terrazas appealed to Marlon Letcher, American consul at Chihuahua, now in this city awaiting instructions, to save his son, Luis, whose life has been declared the forfeit if 500,000 pesos ransom money is not paid over to General Francisco Villa, the rebel leader.

Consul Letcher declared himself deeply moved by the appeal of the octogenarian head of the great Mexican family, whose wide possessions have been confiscated by the constitutionalists, but he had to reply that he was helpless in the matter.

Examination into the execution by General Villa of William S. Benton British subject, and into the disappearance of Gustav Rauch, German American, was begun at Juarez by the Mexican commission appointed by General Carranza, chief of the constitutionalists.

The commission will endeavor to ascertain whether the arrest and conviction of Benton was made according to due form of law and justice. It is not expected that an examination will be made of Benton's body.

An attempt will be made by the Mexican commissioners to learn whether Bauch was executed or whether he is still alive. The Anglo-American commission was still awaiting instructions from Washington.

Rio Janeiro, March 6.—The Brazilian government authorities proclaimed a state of siege in the cities of Rio Janeiro, Niteroi and Petropolis. This is to remain in force until March 31. The government's action is taken as a preventive measure against any possible trouble.
